

Brett Favre apologizes for ill-received remarks

BY TRACI BONNEY

Kiln has an estimated 1,709 residents, and a good many of them seem to be angry with one person — Brett Favre.

When a copy of an article in the April 23 Savannah Morning News began to circulate around Hancock County, reactions ranged from disbelief to ire. During his first press conference as the second-round draft choice for the Atlanta Falcons, Favre made several remarks he now regrets about his home community.

He said Wednesday during an interview from his home that his comments at the press conference were misinterpreted.

"Fifty percent of what I said in Atlanta got printed, and 50 percent didn't get printed," he stated.

One particular quote that angers him was the one attributed to him which stated that local law officers "even get caught with DUIs occasionally back in there."

Favre said of that "quote": "One of the reporters asked me what kind of community I came from, and I told them that if I wanted to go to a bar and have a beer I could sit there and have it with a cop because I know most of them, and you can't do something like that in Atlanta."

"Then when that thing about 'DUIs' popped up in there, I got upset. I never said anything like that. Why would I? The cops here are my friends, and I'd never say anything bad like that."

He was also angry about his supposed claim to be the only pro athlete to come from Hancock County. "A reporter asked me if there were any other pro football players from Hancock County and I said there weren't, which is true. Gene Lang came from Pass Christian, but he wasn't in Hancock County."

"I did talk about Wendell Ladner, the pro basketball player, but they didn't print that. I think he's the greatest athlete, I really admire him, and I sure wouldn't overlook him like that."

Tentative start date set for Hwy. 603 four-laning

BY TRACI BONNEY

After almost four years of study and planning, the expansion of Highway 603 may begin this fall, according to a Highway Department official.

Southern District Highway Commissioner Ronnie Shows told the county board of supervisors Monday that work to four-lane the highway from Hwy. 90 to Interstate 10, and possibly north to the Stennis Airfield turnoff, may begin sometime between September and November if preparations go according to schedule.

Shows said the department has to buy 126 parcels of land before it can begin work. "We've had offers on 35 and made trades for 28. If we're on schedule with right-of-ways, utilities and so forth, we plan to start in the fall."

Estimated completion time is 14 to 18 months, he added.

Board president Ronald Cuevas chuckled and quipped, "And if we get the weather we've been having, it might be 12 years."

At the suggestion of board attorney Gerald Gex, the supervisors unanimously passed a resolution to request that the Bureau of Marine Resources ban the use of gill nets from the north line of Bayou Cadet to the south side of the Bay St. Louis vehicle bridge.

The resolution was passed in response to the recently-passed House Bill 1106, which gives Coastal boards of supervisors the authority to make suggestions to BMR about gill net regulations. According to H.B. 1106, the supervisors have 30 days from the date the bill goes into effect (July 1, 1991) to submit their proposals for the regulations. Gex commented that the board didn't have to wait until July to pass a resolution and submit it.

The board also heard a report from Jake Jacob and Charles Lambert of Bay Cove Harbour. The two men said they wanted to update the board about the work being done in preparation of opening a dockside gaming facility.

Jacob said the State Gaming Commission is looking at the access road engineering layout; the utilities are in place; and preparations are being made for the installation of a large electric power line to the property.

He told the board he and Lambert wanted the supervisors to accept the project "in principle," so that when the gaming commission begins reviewing the company's license application the commission will know that the county doesn't oppose the operation.

Gex said that from a legal standpoint, the county has

Bay St. Louis plans change for annexation procedures

BY TRACI BONNEY

A change in annexation procedures may be on the horizon for Bay St. Louis.

The city council Tuesday voted to set in motion a process that may lead to the amending of a zoning ordinance section dealing with city annexation of land.

Under current zoning regulations, any land annexed into the city automatically becomes Residential 1 until the time the land is rezoned. If amended, the ordinance will not cause the automatic R-1 classification to go into effect.

The process to amend the ordinance will start with the Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission, which will schedule public hearings. After the public hearings, the commission will report its recommendations to the council, which must then decide whether or not to accept those recommendations.

The city has considered annexing Bay Cove Harbour, but under the present ordinance the development would be zoned R-1. That would halt plans to open a dockside gaming facility.

In addition, any other area the city annexes in the future would automatically become residential, effectively stifling commercial endeavors in those places.

The city also took under

Citizens' complaints fill Waveland meeting

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The new City of Waveland board room was filled with unhappy citizens Tuesday.

Citizens expressed the need for immediate solutions to problems they claimed have been ignored for years. Ditches full of dirt and debris, culvert placement, culvert sizes, sewer backups, street widenings, cable television competition, property donated and never used, property never donated and used, pit overflow, and multiple address changing, just to name a few.

Mayor Stella Frilot asked the audience for some understanding as these problems were carried over from previous years and that the city was doing all it could with the limited man power of two crews.

Ward 4 Alderman Stan Weidman summed up the evening when he said, "Not enough finngers to fill all the holes in the dam."

The evening reached a crescendo when the board asked if anyone in the audience would like to speak to the board.

Resident Shane Anderson came forward presenting the board with a video tape of flooding along his street. He cited the problems and possible solutions. Before he could finish, three men from the back of the room interjected that he was part of the problem by filling in his ditch with dirt several years ago.

Morris Garcia moved forward along the wall of the room, closer to the aldermen desk, and pointed his cane at Anderson insisting that prior to Anderson filling the dirt "that street never flooded."

Anderson said he was willing to correct that situation and had purchased the city-required culverts. He asked when the city could place them for him.

Weidman asked that the city place the culverts within the first dry week of weather.

Frilot said she could not commit to that since the crews were working systematically through a particular area. To

Armed Forces tribute theme of May air show

The 1991 edition of the Great Gulf Coast Air Show, sponsored by Gulf Coast Air Race Association and Chapter 479 of the Experimental Aircraft Association will be at Stennis International Airport in Bay St. Louis May 25 and 26.

This year's theme, "A Tribute to the Armed Forces," will feature static and aerial displays of vintage warbirds and the most modern of jet fighters.

Scheduled for display is an F-15, F-16, O-2, T-6, T-28, Stuka, Great Lakes Trainer, PV2, AD5 Skyraider, Christian Eagle and a Decathlon.

A two-hour acrobatic display is planned, including USAF Combat Control Team Jumpers, various aircraft acrobatic routines and a recreation of a Vietnam air-to-ground battle scenario.

On site vendors will provide a varied menu of food and drinks as well as T-shirts and aviation related items.

Gates open each day at 9 a.m. with aerial demonstrations beginning at 1:30 p.m. Admission is adults $5, children, $2 (age 6-12). Children under six are free.

Hearing things

Ever wonder if you're losing your mind, or maybe your hearing?

Or perhaps that's what your co-workers think about you. Well, I know what my excuse is: my name sounds like too many other words.

I'm not joking. I thought I heard my name being called at least a dozen times Monday, and every time it turned out to be another word I heard instead.

For instance—and this is not meant as a commentary on my mental condition—I could have sworn I heard our bookkeeper say "Traci" when what she said was "crazy." She was commenting on a situation that occurred last week which had her wondering where some of her marbles might have rolled.

Now, I know some of you have never had this problem. Let's face it: there aren't too many words that sound like "Bartholemew." Then again, there aren't too many people running around these days with that name.

However, if your name is one of those short, catchy names or nicknames that is so popular today, you might "hear" it far more often than you hear it.

For example, my soon-to-be former co-worker Beth regularly mistakes a call for our circulation manager Jeff as being a call for her.

We used to run into this problem at home, too. My youngest brother Robert (you know, the sniper with 78 kills and a chestful of medals who served in Saudi until March) is generally called "Bob." So—and I bet some of you have already guessed what I'm about to type—whenever we called either Bob or Mom, and both were in earshot, both answered.

Of course, this problem of mistaken vocabulary identity doesn't limit itself to hearing names that aren't actually said. Other words can get mixed up, too.

Anything that rhymes is a

KILLING TIME

prime target; ball, fall, mall, stall, hall, call; doll, wall, loll, brawl, etc., etc., ad infinitum, ad nauseam.

Rhymers aren't the only candidates for this; so are words that have the same number of syllables and similar vowel sounds. Don't ask me why, but the vowels are what trip people up, not the consonants.

So, the next time someone says, "Have a ball!" don't stumble and sit on the floor unexpectedly just to fulfill what you thought you heard.

And next time you hear the word "crazy," don't think I'm going to suddenly appear.

Then again....

Favre

Favre arrived at his home on Irvin Favre Road Tuesday afternoon. To his surprise, most of the phone calls he received were encouraging.

"It wasn't as bad as I thought it would be," he commented. "Most of the calls I got were from people who know me and know how I like to joke around, and they told me that most of the people who were upset were ones I shouldn't worry about because they don't know me well."

His family has received some negative feedback from the article. "We've had some letters in the mailbox and messages on the answering machine; it's just ridiculous."

He said his intent at the start of the press conference was to give Kiln a name, "but not a bad name. I started joking a little to break the tension, you know? But then it got all turned around in the paper."

"I grew up here for 21 years. My family lives here; I know a lot of people; this is my home. I wouldn't intentionally say something bad about this place."

Favre, who hasn't yet signed with the Falcons, said his contract is still in the negotiating stage. "We're going to go for a little more money, but if we don't get it, that's okay. I don't plan to hold out."

"I'm not starting for them, which is one reason I shouldn't hold out. I need to get in there and learn everything I can."

Instead of dwelling on his immediate future with the Falcons, he immediately returned his attention to the Savannah Morning News article and the commotion it has caused.

"I'm not saying I didn't say anything, but I didn't say it the way it came out. I apologize to everyone in the county who is upset or hurt by what the article said."

nothing to do with the operation, and Cuevas said he thinks the board should remain neutral in the matter as it has done from the outset.

When Jacob asked if the supervisors did have a problem with the Bay Cove Harbour plans, no one voiced any objections.

At the request of Tax Assessor/Collector Edward Murtagh Jr., the board voted to approve one-time homestead exemption filing for county residents. A state law passed in March gives the counties the right to decide whether or not to require residents to refile each year.

Under the new plan, residents will have to refile only when there is a change in their status. Otherwise, they will receive the same exemption each year.

Other board business included approving the commissioners' payroll and the April meetings minutes; taking bids for firefighter equipment; under advisement; and hearing county officials' reports. The board recessed until May 17, 9 a.m.

By Ellis C. Cuevas

I am just wondering if you ever visited, or when the last time was you visited, the Goodwill Industries Store in Bay St. Louis.

Many changes have been made in the way merchandise is displayed. Shirts, pants, skirts, dresses, sweaters, etc. are now all displayed on racks.

Items are not just piled into a heap the way they were at one time.

Goodwill's store has been in Hancock County for many years, and now has a fine location in the Bay St. Louis Mall at the intersection of Highway 90 and Dunbar Avenue in Bay St. Louis.

Goodwill, in showing its appreciation for their valued customers and friends, will on Friday have a Anniversary/Customer Appreciation celebration.

From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. there will be free Pepsi and 25¢ hot dogs.

When was the last time you paid only 25¢ for a hot dog?

There will also be free balloons for the kids, and there will be drawings for prizes and gift certificates.

Goodwill stores offer merchandise at extremely low prices, and they have clothing for every member of the family.

If you are on a short budget, Goodwill can help you clothe your family.

Congratulations are in order for Mrs. Leonie (Loney) Fricke, who was elected Senior Citizen of the Year at the Hancock County Senior Citizens Center.

Mrs. Fricke is a big volunteer in helping the Senior Citizens, and at age 77, she still maintains a very brisk pace.

The mother of 12 children, 46 grandchildren, 44 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild, Mrs. Fricke is also involved as a Retired Senior Volunteer (RSVP).

I am glad the Senior Citizens selected a very deserving Mrs. Leonie Fricke for the award.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Brett Favre's comments show lack of knowledge

Dear Editor:

While it may be true we don't have adequate law enforcement, or while there is illegal gambling going on in the VFW, I don't think Mr. Brett Favre should have aired our dirty linen in public.

I think it's a disgrace to find out that someone who we admire for making the "big time" should shame us to the world.

Is it my imagination, or could

Mr. Favre have never heard of a fax machine? Maybe he hasn't read the paper or doesn't know what the AP wire is all about? Maybe he needs a lesson or two in social skills along with a few speech classes.

Oh yea, I forgot. In our day and age we don't really send our football players to classes. They just hover there for the looks.

Thank you,
Camile K. Johnston

Was 'chances' sign on doll merely a form of art?

Dear Editor,

Once again, the talent of a local deserves special recognition!

After attending the "Righteousness Exalts a Nation" rally, I saw what I presumed to be a raffle for a doll.

My mistake! I didn't realize that it was actually an art showing.

The clever use of the "Chances $1.00" sign attached to the front of the doll showed great imagination.

I was foolish to think that this was a raffle. I should have immediately recognized this "sculpture" as ironic symbolism!

Wreckless drivers are soon headed for disaster

Dear Editor,

Riding with a friend just a few days ago, we observed a small car racing at high speed through an obviously red signal just barely missing another car going through the green light by inches!

My driver remarked, "Did you ever see so many stupid birdbrain morons? Look at that nut—laughing as he drove off!"

I had to agree. He picked the right description: Stupid birdbrain morons. Actually, I believe the birds are smarter!

We see them every day: morons who, to have perhaps 5 minutes to 1/100th of a second on a road, risk getting themselves and others into a casket or a wheel chair for the rest of their lives.

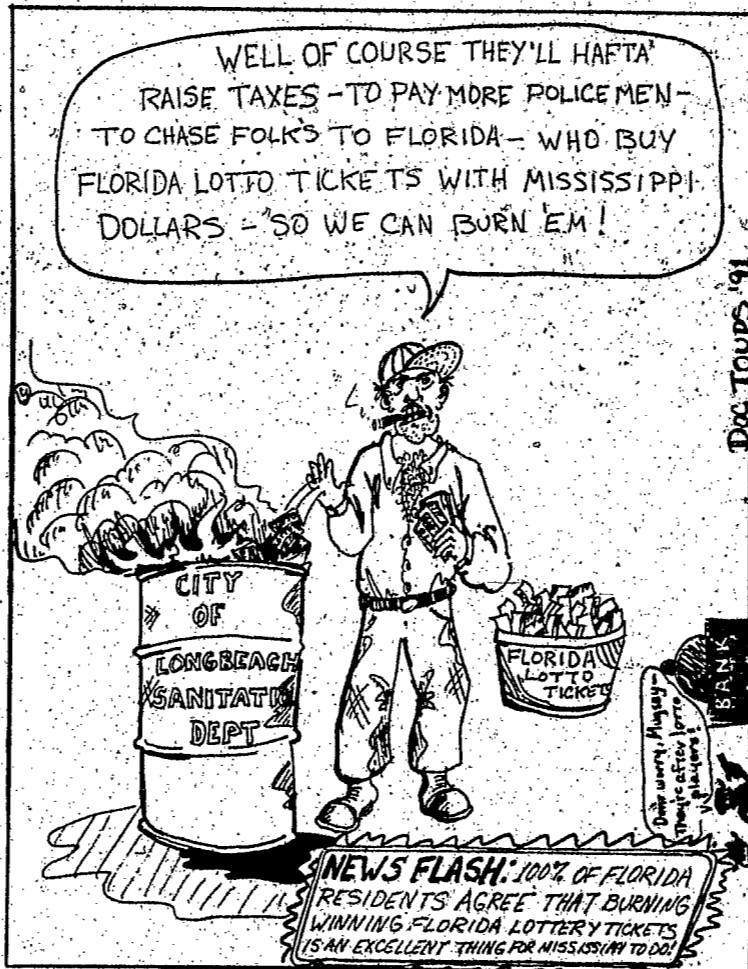

How many morons did you see today? Did you shudder as the driver ahead drifted through a stop sign without even hesitation; or the one doing 70 in a 40-mile zone and passing on the right and then on the left; or the one who refuses to buckle his children in a restraint because: "That's nonsense. I'll never be involved in any kind of accident!"

I could go on and on, describing the various stupid, birdbrain morons we see every day. Ever wonder why your insurance is so high?

And, while I'm on this subject: Here's three different drivers this weekend, loading their friends, their little children and their animals into the open bed of their pickup trucks and driving off. Morons!

Sincerely,
Paul D. Gilbert

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

By Bill Minor

Benvenuti scheduled to head Hale's PSC campaign

Back in the early 80s when he was still in his late 20s serving in the Mississippi House, Sen. Steve Hale of Pascagoula was sure about one thing: He was going to keep lobbyists at arm's length.

Now 12 years later, after one term in the House and two in the Senate, Hale can accurately say that he has remained consistent to his personal pledge not to get too "chummy" with lobbyists.

So much so, Hale once turned down having lunch with the president of a major public utility in his area. At the time, the Legislature was considering a utility regulation reform bill.

"If you want to talk, we can do it right here at my House desk," Hale remembers telling the utility president. The utility official excused himself and took off.

Hale believes as a general principle that if a lobbyist needs to talk with him about a specific issue, his door will be open, "but we can do it right out in the broad daylight."

Significantly, Hale is planning to run in September for the Southern District seat on the Mississippi Public Service Commission, a body which has been notoriously cozy with representatives of utilities it regulates, as shown by evidence in federal court cases in recent years.

Two of the three PSC commissioners elected in 1987 have been removed from the commission after being convicted of bribery and extortion involving entities regulated by the commission.

The Southern District PSC post is currently being filled by George Watson of Pass Christian, who was appointed by Gov. Ray Mabus to replace the ousted Lynn Havens of Gulfport. Watson, the first black to serve on the three-member regulatory body, is a retired educator and does not plan to run for the post.

Hale, who turns 40 in June, has already started gearing up for the campaign in the 27-county district. As his campaign manager, Hale will have Chuck Benvenuti of Bay St. Louis, who twice managed U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor's campaigns.

Taylor had been one of Hale's closest allies in the state Senate until Taylor won the 5th Congressional District seat in 1989. The team of Hale and Taylor was best known for the 1986 lawsuit challenging Lt. Gov. Brad Dye's powers in the legislative branch of government.

Although they lost on a split decision of the state Supreme Court, the two young lawmakers brought to the forefront the historic issue of separation of powers involving the lieutenant governor's office.

Hale has specialized in being a strong consumer advocate in the Legislature, a position that he believes is essential to the Public Service Commission. He had considerable input into writing the 1983 utility reform act, which did away with the longtime practice of utilities putting rate increases into effect under bond before they were considered by the PSC.

Legislation last year creating a public staff in the PSC headed by a director appointed by the governor, rather than members of the PSC, was a key move for consumer protection, Hale said. "But a lot will depend on the personal philosophy of whoever the staff director is," he declared.

Some controversy had surrounded Senate confirmation of former state Rep. Bill Wilkerson of Lucedale to be director of the PSC public staff after Wilkerson fired two staff members who had "blown the whistle" on utility rate overcharges.

Hale said he believed the PSC should take a more active role than it has in the past in bringing reform recommendations to the Legislature. "I've been disappointed that the commissioners haven't been advocates to say to the Legislature, 'Here are the tools we need to do our jobs,'" the Pascagoula lawmaker said.

One glaring mistake made by the commission in recent years, Hale said, was the decision to allow the construction of the $3.2 billion Grand Gulf nuclear plant by Middle South Corp., now Entergy Corp., the parent company of Mississippi Power & Light Co. Mississippi consumers have been assessed for almost one-third of the plant cost.

"We don't need another Grand Gulf fiasco in the state," he said. "Mississippians are paying proportionately too high a cost for it."

The jurisdiction of the commission needs to be expanded, Hale said, to give it regulation over cable television companies insofar as their operating territory and ratemaking. Congress is considering turning over cable TV regulation to the states, "and we should be ready to do it," Hale declared.

We support the Guard.

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Taylor's Washington office keeps active pace

I am often asked questions about the activities and the work done by my staff in the Washington office and three district offices in South Mississippi. While the district offices work in conjunction with my Washington office, most casework to assist constituents with problems they are having with the federal government is handled by the district offices. The Washington office mainly works on legislative issues and special projects.

In this week's column I'd like to tell you about how the Washington office is organized to serve the people of South Mississippi. To say that my Washington staff is busy is an understatement.

During a typical day, the Washington office receives more than 300 incoming calls. Each call is directed to me or the appropriate staff member who specializes in that issue area.

Last week we were receiving many calls about military issues as the House Armed Services Committee, of which I am a member, was working on defense appropriations.

We listen to each caller, take their phone number and address and will follow up with them as the legislation works its way through Congress.

We take many other incoming calls dealing with requests for appointments, requests for passes to the Capitol, White House and other tourist attractions and a wide variety of other requests for help from constituents. In an average month, we process 35-45 requests for American flags that have flown over the U.S. Capitol.

In a typical week, 40-50 South Mississippians will visit our office. Most are members of organizations, associations, etc. who have an interest in legislation that we will consider during the 102nd Congress.

Many are city, state and county public officials who need our help. Others are Mississippians who are vacationing in Washington. We're always glad to see folks from back home, and if you are ever in Washington, I hope that you'll stop by my office in Room 1429 on the fourth floor of the Longworth House Office Building.

The mail we receive from home is always very important to me. It lets me know what the people back home are thinking about issues. In some months, we have received 3,000 letters. In April alone, we received and answered almost 2,000 letters. I am proud that 80 percent of the letters are answered in less than two weeks—a record that can't be matched by most congressional offices.

Others may take longer because of the number of questions asked, issues addressed or the time it takes for my office to be supplied with information from various government agencies.

We receive many other requests for help. It may be as simple as a city in the Fifth Congressional District needing a surplus property generator. Last week a member of my staff was working with South Mississippi hospitals to help them locate surplus medical equipment through the National Institute of Health.

Our help may be as complicated as assisting a new industry that would like to locate in South Mississippi or working on the Navy Homeport in Pascagoula.

The Washington staff is very busy and their hours are long. Our office is officially open from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. each weekday. But on most days, except Fridays, the staff and I are in the office much later than that.

I'm very proud of our many success stories in helping the people who elected me to represent them in Washington. It means a lot when a small town in South Mississippi thanks us for helping them receive approval for a project by the Corps of Engineers or thanks for something as simple as supplying a Mississippi high school with some information they requested.

In next week's column I'll inform you about the type of constituent assistance that is provided in my three district offices. Also, as a reminder, the phone number of my Washington office is (202) 225-5772. Each telephone directory in South Mississippi lists the number of the district office that is nearest to you. If that call is long distance, there is a toll free 800 number listed.

STREET TALK

A commission has been formed to try and extend Amtrack passenger service along the Coast to Mobile. Would you support the service through Hancock County?

"I think I would, because it would be a means of transportation that could be economical."

Clarence Ladner
Bay St. Louis

"I probably would. Driving into New Orleans is sometimes a hassle with all the traffic. It would probably make it more pleasant."

Sue Powell
Garden Isles

"I was thinking if you go to the airport and park your car, you spend a lot on fees. If they extended the service to either airport, New Orleans or Mobile, it would be worth while."

Barbara Quigley
Bay St. Louis

"Yes that would be nice."

Betty DeMetz
Pass Christian

"Yes, definitely yes. When I first moved here, they had train service. I rode it many times to New Orleans. I feel the Coast is isolated without train service."

John Wiltz
Bay St. Louis

"Yes, definitely would. There is a great need for trains. I am taking one myself to Washington, D.C. soon."

Waldron Andre Billiot
Bay St. Louis

"Yes, I think I would. I took it into New Orleans once and I loved it. It was fun, relaxing. I was sorry when it was discontinued."

Kitty Thompson
Diamondhead

"I really don't think there would be enough people that would use it to benefit putting it through. I would love to ride a train from here to the northern part of the state for the scenery in the fall. Are there enough people in this area who can afford it? Was it profitable during the World's Fair? If so, do it. If not, no."

Barbara Remel
Bay St. Louis

"Yes, I would use it to go shopping. I love shopping in New Orleans. I don't like driving in New Orleans."

Alina Jones
Bay St. Louis

"Yes, I think it would be a treat for my relatives when they came down for vacation."

Carl House
Shoreline Park

"Yes, I would use it, for convenience of traveling on the Sunset (Los Angeles to New Orleans line), and probably as a commuter thing to New Orleans, if I didn't want to drive."

'Goodwill appreciation' is Friday at Bay store

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

An anniversary/customer appreciation day will be celebrated Friday at the Goodwill Industries Store, Bay St. Louis Mall, Dunbar Avenue and Highway 90.

Avis Morreale, Bay store manager said, "This special event is shows Goodwill's appreciation for its many customers and friends who have helped make the operation in Hancock County a success." The celebration on Friday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. there will be hot dogs at 25¢ and free Pepsi, along with balloons for the children.

During the day there will also be some drawings for gifts and gift certificates.

The Bay Goodwill store, now in operation for 15 years, is open Monday through Saturday 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

In addition to Avis Morreale, employees are Angie Morreale, Francis Compretta, Helen Bordage, Irene Lanneaux and Paul Shubert.

Merchandise includes an array of clothing at very modest prices for every age group.

Other items include housewares, small electrical appliances, furniture and whatever.

The Bay Goodwill store also accepts donations of clothing and saleable furniture. Morreale said, those making donations can receive a receipt for tax purposes.

For further information call 467-7277.

Mabus visits Bay Middle

Governor Ray Mabus will be at Bay Middle School from 1:30 to 3 p.m. today.

While there he will be hosted by the sixth grade classes of Ophelia Handshie and Jane Lamb.

The Governor is expected to present the Mississippi Marine Litter Law Act to the students who relentlessly lobbied for its renewal and extension in fees and conditions.

The students have prepared a speech welcoming the Governor and will honor his visit with a reception.

Hancock schools recognize Adopt-A-School sponsors

Tuesday, May 14, Hancock County School District will celebrate the third anniversary of the "Partners in Education" program, recognizing Hancock County Schools' Adopt-A-School sponsors for their contributions and continuous support.

Businesses and/or individuals who are interested in becoming an Adopt-A-School sponsor for the Hancock County School District are invited to a reception held in their honor on May 14 at 7 p.m. in the cafeteria of Hancock High School.

Hancock High School is located on Stennis Airport Drive, north of I-10 on Hwy. 603 (Exit 13).

ON PATROL

POSSESSION OF A CONTROLLED SUBSTANCE

Investigator Glenn Strong, director of the Hancock County Narcotics Task Force, reported that Waveland Task Force Investigator Bill Pepperman arrested Shirley J. Kilpatrick, 52, of Belle Chasse, La. Monday and charged her with possession of a controlled substance and obtaining drugs by fraud.

"The arrest took place at a local pharmacy in Waveland," said Strong, "at approximately 5:20 p.m."

"She is presently out of jail on a $5,000 bond."

Vicodine (hydrocodone) was the drug of possession, a narcotic that is used for the relief of pain.

Strong added that Pepperman is in charge of the investigation.

"See me for all your family insurance needs."

Letters to Mom

For Mother's Day this year, Elaine LaFontaine's first grade class at Waveland Elementary wrote about why their mothers were special to them. Below are the children's responses:

My Mom is good to me. She likes corn and chicken and rice. I love her because she tucks me in good night and kisses me.
 Jimmy

My Mom is nice. She gives us good food. I like her very much. She is 29 or 30. She is very nice. Her name is Anne. She is very special.
 Ashley Tilton

Mymom is nice. I like her. My mom cooks supper every day. Today if my Dad gets home, we get to go to pizza hut.
 Amber

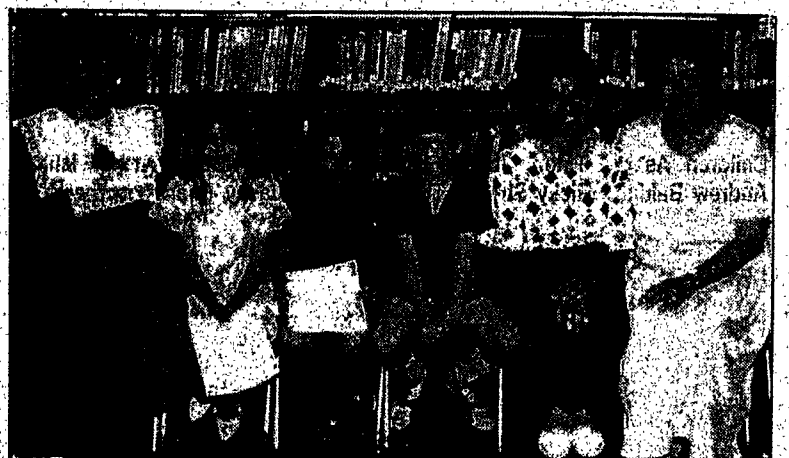

My Mom
 Name Alice
 Age 30
 Weight 120
 Why Do I think my mom is speshil

My Mom is speshil because she buys me toys, and ice cream and close and shoes. She lets me play in my room. She lets me have drinks at night. She lets me sit in the front seat in the car. She lets me play with my dog. My Mom has black hair, black and white eyes. She likes oysters and chicken. My mom does not like mixed up ice cream.
 Nicole

My mom is 63 years old. Her birthday is July 30. She doesn't drink. She doesn't like camping. I love her very much. She likes cooking and that stuff. My moms name is Jean Schmitz. My mom is special because she is nice and she almost buys me every thing I want. My life is wonderful.
 Chrissy Lee Schmitz Lombardino

My Mom's name is Clareise. She waze 120 lbs. She is very sweet. She works at Triton Systems. She is nice. I love Mom. She washes the dishes. The special thing: She cares about me.
 Chase Thoms

My Mom is special because she cooks for us and brings us places. She buys stuff for us. When we are sick or hurt she takes care of us. My Mom's name is Nancy.

Mom

Looking back through the years I remember your love being there for me even during the times when I was too busy to listen, trying so hard to grow up on my own, thinking I knew all the answers. I just want you to know that during the many times you tried to offer advice and encouragement, I really was listening in my own way, and I appreciate all that you've done to help shape me into the person I am today. Through it all you've been my inspiration, and there's no way to tell you how grateful I am except to say I LOVE YOU move the crews from place to place, correcting a problem here and there, would serve to help only individuals, she explained. Her aim was to correct area by area thereby serving all the residents.

Sidney Thomson stood up and asked the board about flooding on St. Joseph Street saying "You can place a ping-pong ball in my ditch and it moves nowhere. There is no flow."

Frilot claimed the lack of flow in the ditches was caused by culvert problems. She added that "the pit," a large man made lake where sand has been dredged for years off of Nicholson Street, provides a constant overflow of water to St. Anthony and St. Joseph Streets because of natural springs within the pit, thereby causing a constant flooding into the area.

Delmer Wilcox addressed the board about five acres of land he, Dr. Donald Egan and Gerald Gex donated to the city in 1980 for a park.

Wilcox wanted to know why the city had done nothing with the land in all this time and overlooked for notification of the meeting and should have been included.

Hubbard withdrew his first motion and moved that the board wait to make a decision on the project until that time when Mrs. Slim could be contacted.

Dr. H.W. LeBourgeois appeared before the board with a financial problem concerning the address of his small animal hospital.

According to Dr. LeBourgeois, within five years he has been given three different addresses between the city of Waveland and the U.S. Postal Service.

He said in order for him to change his business address costed him time and money.

Claiming frustration with mistakes in mapping caused by the city through those years has caused him to appear before the board. "I feel the city should pick-up the burden of the expense for these last two mistakes."

The board took LeBourgeois' problem under advisement.

Frilot reported to the board at this time that Hwy. 90 was not the only area to suffer confusion, but Old Spanish Trail was "really messed up."

Frilot said attempts to correct the situation were now underway and corrections would be made to insure stability in street addressing.

Max Berns and John Lange spoke to the board about allowing another cable company into the area in order to bring about competition as is the "American way."

Berns spoke in particular of his desire for the Mobile, Ala. channel in order that he may watch the New Orleans Saints football games when they are blacked out on local channels.

Frilot said the board was still investigating the pros and cons of allowing two companies to compete in a market of 5400 people.

Berns and Lange were told that the present cable company, Multi Vision, had promised the city that it would be extending its channels along with completing service to those parts of the city which had not received cable.

They were told that the board would reconsider allowing another company into the city at the end of the six months tabling action.

Weidman read a letter into the minutes describing a plea for help from Joseph Gambino of the Idlewood Home Owners Association. The county property along Yarrowborough Place and the Waveland City limits is causing flooding by washout into the subdivision. The residents asked for assistance in the construction of a barricade to stop the water flow.

Frilot said the same crews which dig ditches must build the barricade.

Weidman asked that she commit to a time when a crew could construct the barricade.

Frilot said she could not make such a commitment until the rains stopped and work could once again maintain a schedule.

A letter addressed to the mayor was given to Weidman concerning a Mr. McCloud on Waveland Avenue and Willow Street. A sewer back-up had occurred in his home and he was seeking assistance.

Frilot pointed out that an emergency street cave-in was recently repaired along a street near the McCloud home. "We thought this was the problem, but since then Mr. McCloud has pointed out a break closer to his house."

Weidman questioned city policy in purchasing within the Waveland area while reviewing the city docket.

Weidman asked why it was that the ceiling fans purchased for the aldermen board room were not from Waveland when the bids were only a dollar or two different in cost.

Frilot explained that the city would have had to wait 10 days for the fans had they purchased them from the Waveland bidder, thereby delaying the opening of the aldermen board room.

Weidman questioned as to why the opening could not have occurred without the fans.

Frilot said, "It was a decision I made."

Weidman asked what percentage of price difference in bids does the city choose an outside business over a Waveland business.

He said the carpet for the aldermen board room was $61 more with the Waveland business than with the outside business that received the contract.

"Does a few percent matter? Could we not have given the job to the Waveland business?"

City attorney Lucien Gex explained that by law the lowest price must be accepted, unless it can not meet a specific time limit.

"Do we not have an ordinance," questioned Weidman, "where we voted to give our business to Waveland people first?"

"When possible," Gex added.

Heath expands company

Orlando realtor Ned Heath, co-owner of Higgins & Heath Inc. Realtors, has recently acquired Market Place Real Estate, Inc., also of Orlando.

The 10-year-old brokerage employed 15 sales agents and had residential sales last year of about $15 million.

The acquisition gives the Higgins & Heath company more than 50 sales associates. Heath projects the brokerage will see expanded sales of more than $80 million in metropolitan Orlando next year.

The 13-year-old company is doubling its office space to 6,200 square feet.

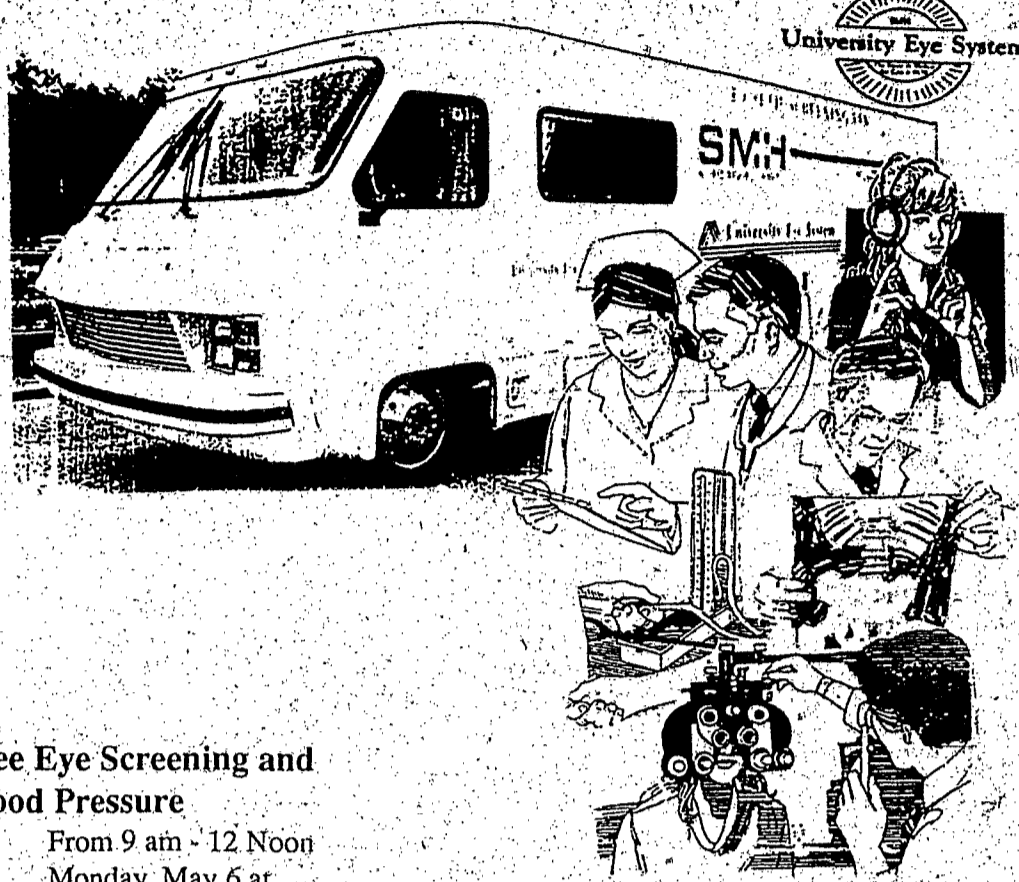

Heath is a graduate of St. Stanislaus High School. He is the son of Edward M. Heath of Pass Christian Isles and the late Kathryn Heath.

He and his wife, Kathy, have two children.

Mayor Stella Frilot

asked that they reveal their intentions for the land. "If you don't want it, I'll take it back."

Wilcox then spoke of the city annex building which was sold to the city at a reduced price and through a no-interest loan plan by Joseph Bugarski in 1990.

Speaking for Bugarski, he told the board that the appliances which were contained in the building were not donated and that Bugarski wished their return. He continued saying, if the city does not return the appliances they can pay for them, and he promptly walked forward and placed an envelope containing a bill onto the aldermen desk.

Frilot requested that the board approve a request by residents of St. Anthony Street to widen the street, to widen the paving and to dig ditches for drainage along both sides of the street. The residents had met with Frilot on May 1 and voted on each request.

Ward 2 Alderman Bob Hubbard had just raised his voice to move that the city proceed with the acquisition of the necessary property along a corner lot on St. Anthony and Jeff Davis when St. Anthony Street resident Keith Mitchell asked to speak.

Mitchell explained that the owner of the property on the corner of St. Anthony and Jeff Davis, Mrs. Slim, was not notified of the meeting and wishes to have some input since the widening project directly affected her.

Frilot apologized saying because the Slim property is listed on Jeff Davis she was

Dinner dance, golf festival planned by AHA

The Hancock County American Heart Association has planned a gala dinner dance on Saturday, May 18 in the Coral Room of the Diamondhead Country Club.

Cocktails will be served from 6:30 to 7:30, with dinner promptly at 7:30. Black tie optional. Reservations are a must.

Send check to Diamondhead Hancock Bank, attn: Alicia, 401 Kalani Dr., Bay St. Louis, MS 39520. Make check payable to the Hancock County American Heart Association in the amount of $45 per couple. Deadline is May 16, 1991.

Co-chairpersons of this event are Belle Hecker and Marge Edwards of Diamondhead and Stella Frilot, mayor of Waveland. A donation to the American Heart Association is tax-deductible.

The seventh annual Golf Festival has been set for Saturday, June 22, at the Diamondhead Country Club's Cardinal Course. Entry deadline is June 15. The $60 per player entry fee includes green and cart fees. The Bubba Outstilet dealership in Gulfport will again provide a special hole-in-one prize, and there will be other prizes provided by the many other businesses who support the Hancock County American Heart Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Cassé, 7797 Golf Club Drive, across the street from the 18th green of the Cardinal course, have again offered their beautiful lawn for the awarding of golfing competition and door prizes. Light food and refreshments will be served. Non-golfing participants may join the awards party for a $10 donation.

Contact person for the golf festival is Herb Larson, 6838 Hilo Street, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520. Registration information should include name, address, handicap, and telephone number of each team member. Registrants should indicate if they wish to be paired with another entry.

For additional information, contact Cliff Couture, 965 Laala Way, 255-1585, who is serving as golf festival chairperson. This event also provides a tax-deductible contribution.

ST. ANN CHURCH NEWS

A thought for meditation from our pastor, Father Justin Furman, ST.

"Many young people are looking for something to look for; they are waiting to discover a worthwhile mission to devote their lives to."

—Pope John Paul
"Sunshine is delicious, rain is refreshing, wind braces us up, snow is exhilarating; there is no such thing as bad weather, only different kinds of good weather."

—John Ruskin
For the month of May, Opal Meyers will be responsible for the Offertory Procession during the 5 p.m. Vigil Mass each Saturday at St. Ann Church.

Saturday, May 11, St. Ann-St. John's First Holy Communion class will have a morning retreat which will be followed by First Confessions.

On Sunday, May 12, Mother's Day, the children will receive their First Holy Communion at the 9:30 a.m. Mass at St. Ann's during which time there will also be the Crowning of the Blessed Virgin Mother Mary.

Because of rain the parish picnic has been re-scheduled for Sunday, May 19 after the 9:30 a.m. Mass at St. Ann's.

On May 19 in the evening we also plan to have a Living Rosary and the outdoor May Crowning of the Blessed Mother. The time will be announced next week.

CYO members meet 7 p.m. each Wednesday in the parish hall.

A Happy Mother's Day to all mothers from Father Justin and parishioners.

advisement three bids for city employee uniforms. The new uniforms would bear patches sporting the recently adopted city logo.

The city gave its permission to the Bay St. Louis Business Association to hold the 1991 Beachfront Festival Sunday, May 19 from 7 a.m. to dusk in its usual downtown beachfront location.

Mayor Edward Favre accepted on the city's behalf a print of the official 1991 Beachfront Festival poster. The poster, presented by business association president Candace Strahan and Gayle Bienvenu of Southern Interiors, is the first in a limited edition of 300 and is signed by artist Gordon Kroll. It was museum matted and framed by Southern Interiors.

Strahan also presented the mayor and council members with official Beachfront Festival t-shirts.

In other business, the city approved the purchase of a mid-size dump truck from Charlie Henderson Ford; heard reports from the municipal clerk, purchasing agent, mayor, clerk of council and attorneys John Seafide and Donald Rafferty; approved a quitclaim deed and an amendment to the city's civil service ordinance; and heard comments on various matters during the public forum from several people, including Don Turner of Emerald Casino, Corbin and Brandy Elbridge and Jack Black.

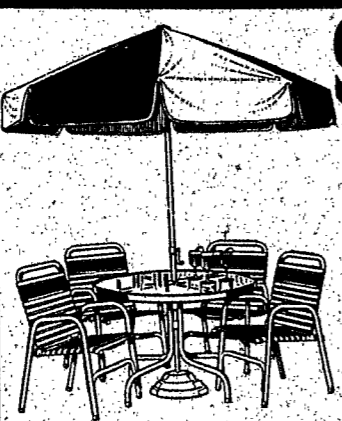

The council sat a workshop meeting for Thursday, May 14, 6:30 p.m. and adjourned.

SECTION B

TIME OUT

Both of the Pass Christian VFW dart teams scored victories last Thursday.

The Bronze "D" Division "Vets" raked through the "Beachcombers" from the Beachcombers Lounge in Pass Christian with an 11-7 victory.

"Vets" players Vern Guilfooy had the men's high score with 123 and Pat Johnston took the men's high out with 40. "Beachcombers" team member Judy Smith claimed the ladies' high score with 83.

The Silver League West Division "Stars & Stripes" stood high over the "Leprechauns" from T.O.'s Lounge in Gulfport when they claimed the night with a 12-6 score.

Although "Stars & Stripes" won the war, the individual battles went to "Leprechauns" Don Cross, men's high score, 140; Romley White, men's high out, 58; and Deb Mareno, both ladies' high score, 100 and ladies' high out, 40.

"Stars & Stripes" travel to Two Miles North in Gulfport to battle the "49ers" while the "Vets" defend the home front at the Pass Christian VFW Hall tonight. Both games begin at 7:30 p.m.

Gulfport Industrial Softball League teams played Monday night in order to make up games due to rain last week. Results from Friday, May 3 are Pass Christian Fire Dept 8-Avondale 3; Alcan 12 - AVCRAD 6; and Stennis/Navy 15 - Indal Aluminum 5.

Monday, May 6 results are Pass Christian Fire Dept. 8 - Regina 3; Stennis/Navy 11 - Avondale 8; and CE&MCO 4 - Alcan 2.

Stennis/Navy is currently tied for first place overall with a 5-0 record; Pass Christian is tied for third at 4-1; and Alcan is in sixth place with 2-4.

The league plays every Wednesday and Friday at Milner Stadium Softball Complex in Gulfport beginning at 5:45 p.m.

Ollie's Red Machine Annual Class B&C Softball Tournament will take place Memorial Day Weekend, May 24, 25 and 26 at Commagere Park in Bay St. Louis.

Competition will be: men, hit-your-own, Dudley MSP47; and women, hit-your-own, 11-inch Dudley.

Awards will be given in both male and female divisions for first, second and third place, most valuable player, offense and defense. Fifteen T-shirts will be awarded for first place teams and beer drinking T-shirts will be designated.

The entry fee is $85 for men and $75 for women.

For more information contact, Otis Brumfield at 452-7836, Robert Whavers Sr. at 467-7339, Thomas Farve at 467-6718 and Lonnie Bradley at 467-6770 or 377-3996.

The Gulf Coast Running Club Calendar of Spring and Summer Events for 1991 includes: May 11, Singing River Hospital Run, 5K and 1-Mile in Ocean Springs;

June 1, Pine Hills 3-Mile and 1-Mile in Wiggins; June 8, Keesler 50th Anniversary 5K and 1-Mile at Keesler Air Force Base;

July 6, Crab Festival 5K and 1-Mile in Bay St. Louis; and August 3, Summer Beach Run, 5K and 1-Mile in Biloxi.

The sixth annual Singing River Hospital 5K Run and Walk and 1-Mile Fun Run will be held on Saturday, May 11, at the Ocean Springs Hospital on Hwy. 90.

The entry fee is $10 on the race day. T-shirts, trophies, medallions and buttons will be awarded.

For more information, call Cindy Hamilton at 937-5432, John Pouncy at 497-1898 or Lindo Sullivan at 832-6071.

Rocks claim 4A track title

Special to the Echo
The SSC varsity track and field team completed the rain-delayed Division VIII-AAAA track meet May 1. When the 1600m relay was over, the Rocks had won their fourth consecutive division track and field meet.

The Rocks overcame injury and training delays due to inclement weather to take first place honors.

The top two finishers from the meet will qualify for the South State meet in d'Iberville. The top four from the South State meet will meet the four best from the North State at Pearl High School May 10.

Qualifying for the South State for SSC are:

High Jump: Gene Moran and Paul Johnson

Discus: Galen Smith (broke division record)

400m Run: Paul Johnson

800m Run: Brian Brooks (broke division record) and Drew Seafide

200m Dash: Burney Young

1600m Run: Brian Brooks (broke division record)

3200m Run: Brian Brooks (broke division record)

400m Relay: Mick Quinlan, Brandon Rhodes, Mike Lee, Burney Young

1600m Relay: Trian Platz, Neil Heitzman, Paul Johnson, Brian Brooks

Out of seven meets the Rocks competed in this season, the team won five, placing second and third in the other two.

"The division meet was the most inspired I have seen our team run since the South State meet of last year," stated Coach Larry Ramsey.

"The week before the meet, the Sun Herald was giving St. Martin a lot of coverage and placed them in the favorite's role by virtue of their wins at the Hancock Invitational meet and the Merchant Marine relays at Moss Point.

"It's been a while since we have been considered the underdog in the division meet. It was good for our kids. They have worked hard all year and worked even harder the week prior to the division meet."

At the end of the field event finals and the 3200m run, SSC had a 13-point lead over St. Martin. That all changed quickly.

With wings on his feet

SSC's Brooks shoots for state record

BRIAN BROOKS

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

His name is Brian Brooks. He is tall and slender and handsome. He is as fleet-footed as the Roman god Mercury, and for the past year he has been breaking all sorts of distance records.

Brooks is a senior at St. Stanislaus High School in Bay St. Louis. He is a native of Bay St. Louis, as he said, "forever." He is the second of four sons of Tommy and Judy Brooks.

"I have been running since I was eight," claimed Brian.

"That's not true," interjected his father, who heard the comment from his car where he watched his son practice at the school track.

"I've been chasing him with a switch since he was three."

Brian obviously comes from a close family. His admiration for his brother Bart, a 1989 graduate of St. Stanislaus, beamed through his eyes as he said, "Bart is the goal keeper at Belhaven College."

He explained that as his brother excelled in soccer, he thought he too would follow in his footsteps.

"My brother and father and I always joked around. Maybe soccer?"

But as Brian put it, "When I began running, we knew that would be it."

He began formal training in the ninth grade. "I wasn't fast.

But I had endurance.

"It really wasn't until this year that I saw my speed improve."

"I guess the growth and training had something to do with it."

Brian said his coach, Larry Ramsey, is good with the team. "He understands where we are coming from. He knows what to do to train and what to do after a meet."

As if he were admitting a slight sin, Brian said he does no warming-up before a race, nor cooling-down after.

"God was just plain good to him," his father added.

Brian is traveling to Jackson today for the state meet on Friday. There he will "shoot for two state records." In the 4A division he must run better than 9 minutes and 44 seconds in the two mile, and better than 4 minutes and 38 seconds in the one mile.

"He has already done that," added Tommy Brooks.

Brian's father explained that though Brian has already beaten those records this year it is not official until it is accomplished at the overall final meet.

Brian said his best this year in both events is 9:38 in the two mile and 4:29 in the one mile. He has not yet decided on

Pass sailors seek ISYRA Trophy

Special to the Echo
Inter-scholastic sailing is 61 years old, and for the first time in its history, St. Stanislaus will be sending a team to compete in the Inter-scholastic Yacht Racing Association's National High School Regatta.

The SSC team is comprised of Manning Montagnet, Kevin Northrop, Owen Peneguy and Eugene Schmitt. SSC social studies teacher Robin Rafferty is the team's sponsor.

The SSC team won the SEISA/ISYRA championship and elimination for the Mallory, sponsored by Tulane University in New Orleans, La. April 27 and now advances to the National High School Championship May 11 and 12 at the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md.

The SSC team will be competing for the Clifford Mallory Trophy. The Mallory is ISYRA's oldest competition, dating from 1930, and the trophy is now awarded to the winner of the National High School (double-handed) Championship.

In the past, this regatta was sailed in sloops; for approximately the last 10 years, the competition has been in dinghies. The U.S. Naval Academy will once again host the double-handed Mallory Regatta along with the single-handed Cressy

Regatta for ISYRA.

The Mallory competition is a comparative test of the best selected by ladder competition.

The finalists will consist of 20 school teams selected by area

Hancock girls compete in state track events

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Hancock High School has five young girls who are traveling to Pearl High School outside of Jackson today to compete in the state track and field events Friday. They qualified Monday night in the 400-meter and 1600-meter relays.

What is outstanding about these five athletes is the fact that Sandra Blakey and Nicole Staten are in eighth grade; Jennifer Richard and Katherine Hay are in ninth grade; and Sherri Price is in tenth grade.

Scharp, Laneaux advance to state track meet

Two Bay High School seniors will compete at the state track meet this Saturday in Jackson.

Mike Scharp and Vida Laneaux qualified for the state meet by finishing among the top four in two events at the South State Track Meet in Jackson Tuesday. Scharp finished third in the high jump, with a jump of 6'2", while Laneaux finished fourth in the girls' discus with a throw of 97 feet.

Bay High School competed in the girls' discus and shotput, and in all boys' events except the 100m and 400m races.

Rocks capture state tennis title

The St. Stanislaus boys' doubles team of Myron Labat and Phillip Pratt captured the 1991 State High School 4-A Championship last week in Jackson, finishing what has been a brilliant high school tennis season.

Coach Myron Labat Sr. said, "The championship was a rewarding ending to what has been a year of hard work and sacrifice. Labat and Pratt played inspired tennis throughout the tournament, surrendering no more than three games in any one match en route to the title."

In the first round, the Rockchaws defeated Madison-Ridgeland by a score of 6-0, 6-0. In the second round, the Rocks served and vollied their way past R.H. Watkins 6-1, 6-0. In the semi-finals, the "deadly duo" outgunned and overpowered an experienced McComb team 6-1, 6-1.

The championship match versus South Pike, however, had a very tense beginning. Neither team could hold serve through the first six games, knotting the score at three games each. In the seventh game, Labat held serve and the Rocks never looked back, reeling off the next eight games to take the match and the championship by a score of 6-3, 6-0.

Coach Labat said, "I can't say enough about how hard this team has worked and how focused these two players (Pratt and Labat) have been throughout the entire school year. (Workouts began in September.) This championship is testimony that hard work does pay off."

Chris Delgado also competed for the Rocks at the boys' singles position. He defeated the Madison-Ridgeland representative by a 6-0, 6-0 score before losing to the N.W. Rankin player 6-1, 6-0. Delgado finishes the year with an 11-2 record sheet at the boys' singles position, while Pratt and Labat dropped only one set the entire season and remain undefeated for the season at 17 wins and no losses.

where he will attend college. How he does tomorrow will help him in that, for he said he is waiting until then to see what other offers he might receive.

So far, Brian has been contacted by Belhaven College, the University of Mississippi, Northeast Mississippi Community College and the University of Southern Mississippi, all expressing interest in this future hopeful.

Brian plans to use his college time to work toward a most aspiring goal, the 1996 World Olympics in Atlanta, Ga.

"I am hoping to red shirt in college," Brian stated. "Red shirting is when they hold you back a year for training."

"It will take me five years to complete college, but it will help me to be a stronger runner."

At this time Brian is considering a degree in physical education. "I think I would like to teach."

This summer, while he is out of school, he plans to continue his training with 5K, 10K and half-marathon running.

Presently his training consists of about 45 minutes a day. Brian is an exceedingly polite and unassuming young man. He reflects the very best of Bay St. Louis, Hancock County, Mississippi, and the United States of America.

He asked that he might have the opportunity to "thank all the people who have come out and supported me." His coaches, Ramsey and Andy Kivlan, his teachers at the school, his parents and even the papers which have followed his development throughout this year and past years.

"A runner doesn't really peak until about 28 or 29 years of age," his father stated.

"If I don't make the 1996 Olympics," Brian added with a grin, "there is always the next one."

"To run against older, larger girls, and to be so young," Coach Alan Dedeaux said, "is quite an accomplishment."

Dedeaux added the main thing he expects the girls to gain from their trip to the north is "experience."

"They will be running against the best runners. I want it to give them the incentive, the hunger for next year."

"By going to state it will light a fire and really make them do well."

Dedeaux stated that though winning would be wonderful, they have already won in a sense by qualifying.

Blakely, Richard, Price and Staten ran the 400-meter relay, while Blakely, Richard, Hay and Staten ran the 1600-meter relay in the qualifying races.

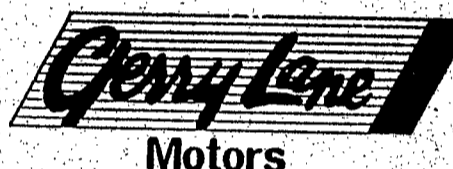

"If the girls can stick with it," Dedeaux commented, "they can accomplish a great deal in a few years."

eliminations in their ISYRA districts and will sail a division of Flying Juniors and a division of 420's in a ten-race college format series.

SSC will have two boats entered in the team-format regatta. Manning Montagnet will be at the helm with Eugene Schmitt as his crew.

Kevin Northrop will skipper with Owen Peneguy as his crew. Though this will be St. Stanislaus' maiden voyage on the national high school sailing scene, its team members are no strangers in the yachting world.

Montagnet, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Montagnet Jr. of Pass Christian. A senior honor roll student with a 3.7 GPA, Montagnet will serve as co-salutatorian of St. Stanislaus Class of '91.

He has received an appointment to the U.S. Naval Academy as a member of the Class of 1995.

An avid sailor, Montagnet skipped the PCYC team to a Bronze finish in the 1990 Sears Cup National Championship and took first place at the FSSA Junior North American Championship.

He is a member of the 1990 USYRU/Rolex Junior Sailing Team and received the F. Gardner Cox Junior Sportsmanship Award.

Montagnet has been a skipper on the PCYC Jr. Lipton Team for the past five years and a skipper on the PCYC Sr. Lipton Team since 1987.

He was a skipper on the history-making PCYC team that won the 1989 Senior Lipton Cup for the first time in its 70 years of competition.

In 1990, he was selected by resume to compete in the USYRU/Nautica U.S. Youth Sailing Championship in Gulfport.

He also participated in the Laser II Mid-Winters, the Mardi Gras Regatta, the Laser II Easter Clinic and the Bruce Cup in Dallas, Texas.

Northrop, 16, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Northrop Jr. of Pass Christian. He is a sophomore honor roll student at SSC.

Northrop has been a four-year member of the PCYC Junior Lipton Team and in 1988 and 1989 received the "Uncle Roy" Trophy awarded to the winning skipper of the last race of the series.

In his first appearance as a PCYC skipper in the 1990 Senior Liptons, Northrop came in second. He has been very active and dominant in local 420 regattas and has attended several National Laser regattas.

Peneguy, 16, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Peneguy of Long Beach and a SSC sophomore honor roll student. He was selected by resume to compete in the 1990 Laser Youth Champs.

As a member of the 1990 PCYC Junior Lipton Team, Peneguy skipped to a first place finish in the first race. He crewed for Montagnet in the 1990 FSSA Junior North American Championship and the Sears Cup National Championship.

Peneguy received the F. Gardner Cox Junior Sportsmanship Award and is a member of the 1990 USYRU/Rolex Junior Sailing Team. He has competed in many Laser regattas and has been crewing for Northrop in the local 420 regattas.

Schmitt, 14, is the son of Mrs. Linda Schmitt and Jim Schmitt of Pass Christian. He is an eighth grade student at SSC and the youngest member of the team.

In 1987, Schmitt competed in a series of three International Optimist Dinghy Association Championship Regattas.

In the Optimist National Championship held at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md., Eugene competed in an overall fleet of 86 boats and took first place in the White Fleet (10 years and under).

In the Long Island Sound Optimist Championship in Larchmont, N.Y., Schmitt took first place in the White Fleet of 28 boats with an overall fleet of 60 dinghies.

In the North American Optimist Championships in Ithaca, N.Y., he took second place in the White Fleet. After a hiatus in Eastport, Maine, Schmitt returned to the Gulf Coast last year and has been active in 420 sailing.

St. Stanislaus golf team finishes third in district

St. Stanislaus placed third of eight teams in the District Golf Tournament May 2, finishing behind Oak Grove and d'Iberville.

SSC team members and their scores were: Chris Knowles, 82; Mitch Montelaro, 84; Troy Schwant, 88; Shawn Cassidy, 89; Charlie Nelson, 93; and Heather Warner, 104.

Coach Chuck Genin commented, "I was very pleased with the team effort. We finished sixth last year, so we moved up three spots this time."

"I'm looking forward to next year, because we're losing only two players. We have a young team, mostly freshmen and sophomores."

Opening day

The rains parted for opening day ceremonies for the Bay St. Louis Little League Monday afternoon, following two postponements due to inclement weather. Throwing out the first ball was Mrs. Mae Tudury, founder of the Bay Little League organization in the 1950's. Coach Wendell Ingram delivered the invocation, while a color guard was presented by American Legion Post 139. Seven teams make up the 9-10-year-old division, while five teams compose the 11-12-year old class. The 9-10's play on Mondays and Fridays, and 11-12's play Tuesdays and Thursdays. Saturdays are reserved for make up games in both leagues. Neil Favre is program director. For information, call 467-1407. (Photos by Thomas H. (Doc) Toups)

Wildcats fall to Trojans for state baseball title

After four long years of knocking, the Pearl River College Wildcats were on the verge of tearing down the elusive state community college baseball title door in Poplarville Sunday.

By beating North Division champ and defending state champion Mississippi Delta 6-4 Friday and then arch-rival Gulf Coast 5-3, the nation's third ranked team, on Saturday, PRC Coach Jim Nightengale had his Wildcats almost inside the hallowed baseball championship room.

The 1991 Wildcats were about to go where no other PRC baseball team had gone since 1939.

But by the time huge early evening thunderstorms rolled into the Mississippi Coast, the Mississippi Delta Trojans had rolled over Pearl River.

Mississippi Delta swept a triple-header Sunday, defeating Mississippi Gulf Coast 5-3 and Pearl River 8-2 and 4-2. The Trojans defied all odds by winning the 1991 Mississippi Community College Baseball Championship through the losers' bracket.

"We get closer every year," said a frustrated Nightengale. "I really thought we were ready to take it all this year."

Rain played havoc with the scheduling of the games over the weekend. On Friday games were played at the Mississippi Gulf Coast field in Perkinston, however, Saturday morning storms sent all four teams hunting a dry field further south.

A little after midnight Saturday the Wildcats set the stage for Sunday's showdown.

Behind the pitching of Patrick James the Wildcats defeated the Gulf Coast Bulldogs 5-3. Earlier in the evening Delta defeated Northwest 10-9 in the ninth inning.

The Trojans trailed in that game 9-5 in the final inning before coming up with last second heroics.

In the first game on Sunday

Delta defeated tournament favorite Gulf Coast 5-3.

In the first game against Delta, the Wildcats committed a couple of early errors which led to a quick 2-0 Delta advantage.

The Trojans picked up another run in the second, three in the sixth and two more in the seventh. The Wildcats' only threat came in the last inning where they picked up two runs.

In the final and deciding game, PRC jumped to a quick 2-0 lead as Brett Rossler walked, Jamie Williamson singled and then both eventually scored.

"We wanted to get out front quickly," said Nightengale. "We just didn't expect to give up a homer to start."

With two out and one on, designated hitter Dean Goodwin tied things up with a 390-foot shot to left center off pitcher Scott Dease. The first inning ended tied at 2-2.

Pearl River left two men on in the third, fourth and fifth innings. In the bottom of the fifth the Trojans, with two on and two out, put Pat Roberts on with a walk. Tony Hancock then drove in Roberts from second.

PRC had a golden opportunity to tie things up in the seventh as Dustin O'Neal walked, stole second and advanced to third on an error.

The Wildcats had O'Neal at third with no outs. Rossler, the top of the order, hit a hard grounder to third and O'Neal was caught in a run-down to home plate.

In the bottom of the seventh, and again with two outs the Trojans mounted another charge. It was Roberts getting another walk and then two straight singles drove the lead-off man in for the Trojans.

The Wildcats left two runners on in the eighth inning as both J.P. Morgan and Zack Pace walked.

The Trojans, with rain pelting Hollis Field, retired the side to win their second consecutive state championship.

The Wildcats, 27-16 overall, picked up the state's runner-up trophy and will be the number-two seed in the national Region 23 Tournament set for Friday in Meridian.

The Wildcats were also runner-up to Hinds in 1989. Bay St. Louis players on the Wildcat team include Will Seymour, Doug Power and Bob Holland.

Derby day

Diamondhead Boaters go to the races

Special to the Echo

Despite the rain in other parts of the county, the sun did shine on the lovely Berlon Dennis home in Diamondhead for the annual Kentucky Derby Party.

The 148 members of Diamondhead Boaters Association attending had no trouble reaching "Churchill Downs" on the River, following signs "1st Turn," "Backstretch," "Far Turn," "Homestretch," and "Finish" posted by Lou Cotton.

The Derby Day theme was carried out with red roses in trophies and horseshoes and signs for the "Betting Windows," "Club House," "Paddock Bar," "Feed Bag," and of course, "Fillies" and "Colts."

Ladies wore unusual and pretty hats. Bud Freeman's famous mint juleps were served in official Kentucky Derby glasses commemorating the 117th Run for the Roses.

Burgoo (a traditional Kentucky dish) and Kentucky Derby pies were also served along with hors d'oeuvres brought by members.

After placing their bets and watching the race on TVs placed throughout the house, the Boaters had their own race on a track set up in the drive way.

Jockeys, in hats and on horses made by Nina Cotton, lined up and were directed by E. J. Smith.

The entries were:

Don Marshall (Boaters Commodore) on "Dandy Don," Missy Marshall on "Bayou Belle," Nell Dennis on "Nell's Folly," Pat Stafford on "Paradise Pat," Ted Szlag on "Road Runner" and Sue Jerome on "Sexy Sue."

Sexy Sue was the winner and was presented with the traditional horseshoe of red roses.

Chairman for the party was Nell Dennis. Her committee included Bud Freeman, Sue Jerome and Nina Cotton. Also helping were Bill and Betty Reddock, Lou Cotton, Frank Jerome and Ted Szlag. Winner of the door prize was Millie Abbott.

Lost Afghan hound finds friend in Diamondhead woman

Editor's note: The following story was submitted by Diamondhead resident Evelyn Thompson. It details her experiences in caring for a stray Afghan hound for several months, as told from the dog's point of view.

"Call Me Fancy"

In reality, I was originally named "Longfellow" because my hair is long and I am a fellow. In all sincerity, inasmuch as I am a regal animal (having a breeding history of 6,000 years), the name Longfellow is dignified and suits my Egyptian background. You see, I am a rare and beautiful Afghan hound. In fact, evidence of my importance to the pharaohs has been found in many Egyptian pyramids and diggings. I am, when groomed, probably the most beautiful animal (dog just doesn't do the justice) in this part of the country. My life didn't begin as it should have—being my royal nature—I was abused. My delicate temperament reacted in such a way that I became very feral and skittish from fear of bodily harm. Then one day a lady (hereinafter referred to as Lady No. 1) rescued me from the SPCA in New Orleans where I had been dumped.

I was surprised that she wanted me, for I wasn't a bit friendly and wouldn't even let her pet me. But she persevered, and I went home with her. It took some time, but within a couple of months I accepted her and she loved me. We became good friends in the year that we lived together, not knowing that we would be separated for the next seven months.

One day Lady No. 1 allowed her friend to "dogsit" me, which I didn't like. After all the love and attention that I had bestowed on her, here I was in a place called Diamondhead, with a strange person that I wasn't a bit eager to get to know. I found my chance to escape when he cracked the door to let his cat in. I bolted out the door into the lush greenery that awaited me. Sure was different from that city environment I had been used to. I was free and I liked it. Only problem was, I like to eat... and that finally did me in.

I found that eating was a big problem in this free new world. No longer did I have a "scientific" feeding daily in my very own elaborate bowl. I was forced to eat with the other animals in the woods. But then I am a hunting hound, so I figured I should complain. Most of the time, I found the foxes for my daily bread.

Then one fine sunshiny day as I was tripping happily along, I almost tripped a little old woman (Lady No. 2) out for her regular afternoon walk. I scared the heck out of her. She thought I might be vicious—me vicious? I immediately bolted off again into the greenery, thinking I would never see her again. But she was one of those "concerned for the animals persons," thinking that I needed food, shelter and affection. Well, I did need food; I did find shelter with the other animals and on her back porch; and I do love myself.

She just wouldn't leave me alone. One afternoon about mealtime, there in her yard was a plate of goodies fit for a king... and you know how I feel about that. I must admit that my beauty is overwhelming. I have beautiful blond hair, with a dark mask. When I walk, I prance; and when I sit, I look like the Sphinx. Back to the feast. I had forgotten how good that Alpo was, so I decided to show up the next day at the same time to see if she came through again. Well, I did and she did; there was the plateful of morsels again at dinner time. Only thing, the plate was closer to the house.

She kept right on with the meals until I found myself eating right at her front door. I looked up and there she was with binoculars looking right at me through the window. She was obviously trying to read the brass nameplate on my fancy purple collar. Believe me, I let her know that I objected to being watched while eating. I barked until she moved the plate away from the window, and then I condescended to eat.

Before I knew it, I was hooked on that evening meal. I showed up promptly each day and she was always there looking for me to feed. She would give me chewy treats, and in return I would give her a little performance, jumping and prancing. That sure made her happy. But I kept my "legs-length." I was suspicious of everyone, and due to my breeding have always been skittish.

This went on for months—the same routine. Only all of a sudden she (Lady No. 2) started calling me Fancy. Now that is no name for a male hound dog like me, but I humored her. She kept looking at me through those field glasses trying to determine my sex and to whom I belonged. But my fur was so long that she couldn't tell that I was no Fancy.

I was concerned that I would be a prey to wild beasts; develop worms (heart, etc.); or become the host to a lot of mosquitoes, ticks, etc. She even put worm medicine in my meals, then fed me double to fatten me. I loved it! I even became a little affectionate! Every evening she would holler from her patio, "Here, Fancy," and I knew chow was on! (I kept living in the woods every day until mealtime.)

One day at dinner time, there was a different (but familiar) person (Lady No. 1). She approached me, calling me Longfellow. I wasn't in the mood to socialize there at dinner time, so I just headed back to the woods with her in pursuit. Boy was I confused. There were two do-gooders trying to catch me.

Every night for the next week, there she was, this Lady No. 1 trying to lure me into that so-called portable kennel. Seems I used to sleep in it in New Orleans before I flew the coop seven months before. Instead of eating at the regular hour (as they hoped) I instead came back in the dead of night and ate my fill.

Then Lady No. 1 left and Lady No. 2 was back on the scene. In place of the kennel, however, there was a strange wire contraption that sure puzzled me. The little old lady was still filling my plate, only now she crawled into the cage each night and left it there for me. I kept eating in the wee hours of the morning because I was suspicious that something was going on.

Sure enough, that last time I was hooked. The trap door slammed behind me at 3 a.m., and I was a goner. I decided what the heck, I might as well eat, I deserved it. What I didn't know was that there was a tranquilizer in that food and by 6 a.m. I was on a fantastic trip.

They came, put me in a truck, took me to the vet and started to make me presentable. Lady No. 1 really owned me; she is the one who left me with the "dogsitter." Lady No. 2 cried a little, but she doesn't own me. And, besides, she is so happy that I am back home with my mistress and away from all those varmints.

So, here I am, bathed, shaved and groomed, in good old New Orleans, lying here on this beautiful Oriental rug. I guess Fancy does sort of suit me. How about just calling me Fancy Longfellow!

How many here recycle?

Robert Reuter, assistant manager of the Waveland K-Mart, acts out a skit with assistance of third grade teachers Ray Glenn, holding microphone, and Portia Stewart, holding SOAR, the official Keep America Beautiful mascot eagle puppet. The third grade classes of Waveland Elementary School were given coloring books and posters of environmental awareness for each child and a skit was presented about recycling. K-Mart has set aim at America's future leaders as those who will benefit most from today's educational efforts. Teachers Carolyn Lea and Audrey Malone, along with school principal Jim Baldree, shared in the learning event. (Echo staff photo by Jacqui Cochran)

PRC recognizes major contributors

Pearl River Community College Development Foundation recently sponsored a "donor appreciation dinner" to recognize major contributors to the college.

Individuals and businesses pledging $10,000 or more to the PRC Development Foundation are in the Magic Makers level while contributors of $1,000 to $9,999 are listed as River Navigators.

The PRC Development Foundation has raised $600,000 from private sources in less than four years and it is nearing its $175,000 goal for this year.

Donations to the PRC Foundation are listed as restricted or non-restricted gifts. The gift levels include monies listed as scholarships.

Major donors were treated to a dinner and presented a series painting of White Hall, the fourth oldest remaining building on campus.

Magic Makers for 1991 include the Northshore Regional Medical Center of Slidell, Bonnie and Lawrence Warren of Hattiesburg, Berlon and Brenda Lee of Columbia, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Allen of Columbia, Fred Lee of Bogalusa, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Ford of Hattiesburg, Movie Star Inc. of Poplarville, Dr. and Mrs. Ted J. ## Jason Roche earns Parvuli Dei emblem

JASON ROCHE

Jason Roche, son of Gary and Janet Roche of Waveland, recently received his religious emblem, the Parvuli Dei, during Mass at St. Clare Catholic Church in Waveland.

The Parvuli Dei emblem is given by the Catholic Church to a Cub or Webelos Scout in special recognition for advancement in religious knowledge and spiritual growth.

The purpose of the emblem is to help young boys discover the presence of God in their daily lives as members of their family and church parish. It also helps develop a good positive self-image.

The emblem is a medal depicting the Holy Family and is suspended from a bar pin. It bears the inscription "Parvuli Dei, which means 'Children of God'."

The presentation is made through the authority of the Diocesan Scout Chaplain, and the Boy Scouts of America has authorized it to be worn on the Scout uniform.

Father Noel Fannon, pastor of St. Clare, explained the significance of the emblem.

The emblem was presented to Jason by Scoutmaster Billy Adams, Pack 630.

Attending the ceremony and participating in the color guard were Scouts Mike Arnold and Matthew Arnold, Troop 210; Gene Taylor, Maurice Steber and Theodore Adams, Troop 630; Steven Taylor, Pack 630; and Scout Leaders Al Steber and Susan Adams.

Pass student named 'Time' art finalist

Ho Nguyen, a Pass Christian High School senior, has been notified by TIME Magazine that he is a finalist in the 1991 TIME Education Program Student Writing and Art Contest. Ho's art entry was a TIME Magazine cover design depicting a Vietnamese-American soldier with the story caption, "Another Time, Another War, Vietnamese in Iraq." The work was done in water color. Ho's art teacher at Pass High is Ken Matthew.

MGCCC graduation scheduled

There are 690 candidates for graduation at the three campuses of Gulf Coast Community College.

Commencement exercises will be today, May 9 in the gymnasium at the Jefferson Davis Campus in Gulfport; Friday, May 10 in the gymnasium at the Jackson County Campus in Gautier; and Monday, May 13 in the A.L. May Memorial Stadium at the Perkinston Campus (Wentzell Hall gymnasium in case of rain).

All ceremonies begin at 7 p.m. MGCCC President Dr. Barry L. Mellinger will confer degrees and certificates of completion.

Chronic Fatigue Syndrome or Fibrositis?

Nearly everyone has heard something about the Chronic Fatigue Syndrome (CFS). It seems to be in the news all the time, and the news doesn't always seem good.

Basically the syndrome is, as the name implies, marked by a profound sense of tiredness. Not only after a day of work, but even in the morning. In fact, the sensation of fatigue may be so overwhelming that going to work at all may become nearly impossible.

There are a number of other symptoms that are common, such as low-grade fevers, swollen lymph glands, muscle aches or weakness and of course, joint pain. Sleep problems are also frequent.

There are a lot of theories about what causes this problem. Several address the possibility of chronic infections such as Epstein-Barr Virus (EBV) or Cytomegalovirus (CMV) playing a role. While these are only theoretical explanations, they have attracted a lot of attention in the media. Unfortunately, and here's where the news isn't always good, there is no real treatment for these viruses.

Fibrositis or Fibromyalgia is a very common syndrome treated very frequently by rheumatologists. Patients are often referred to the rheumatologist after the initial evaluation fails to find an explanation for the patients' complaints. These complaints are almost identical to those of CFS patients, leading many experts to believe that they may be the same disease. Fortunately, there are good treatments available for Fibromyalgia and many patients report cures!

If you or someone you know is suffering with these problems, we may be able to help. Ask your family doctor for a referral or call our office for an appointment.

Phillips College announces honors lists

The Gulf Coast campus of Phillips Junior College announces those students who made the President's List for the winter quarter that ended April 10.

In order to make the President's List, a student must attain a perfect grade point average of 4.0 for 12 or more quarter hours of course work. The following students are recognized for accomplishing this high academic achievement.

Bay St. Louis/Kiln: Beverly Colwell, Marie Lizana, Matt Perkins, Cheryl Rasbury, Janice Rogers and Kip Zahner.

Pass Christian: Sandy

Eakins, Frana Garcia, Yolanda Lander and Elizabeth Ozene.

The following students were named to the Dean's List for the winter quarter.

To be eligible, students must have maintained no less than a 3.0 grade point average on 12 or more quarter hours of academic course work.

These students are:
Bay St. Louis-Waveland: Annie Dillard, Elaine Givens, Christopher Grady, Buffy Jaquillard, Annette Lombardo, Jody Malley, Melissa Reed, Paul Reilly and Vicky Vicknair.
Pass Christian: Mary Brogdon, Kerry Dedeaux, Dennis Hurlbert, Querina Marquez and Lorraine Pham.

Pearce, Soldnie accepted into planetarium Space Station program

Kristie Pearce of Waveland and Richard Soldnie of Bay St. Louis, seventh grade students at Bay High School, have been accepted to participate in the Mississippi Student Space Station Project at the Davis Planetarium in Jackson this summer.

Students statewide applied for admission and 32 were accepted. Selection was based on interviews and the project idea for space research submitted by the students.

The 14-day program includes 10 days in which student teams develop their space research projects. The final four days will be spent on a round-the-clock mission in "Athena," the space station simulator equipped to support a crew of eight, and at Mission Control, manned by student flight controllers.

The 32 students will participate in Mission 91 A, which is scheduled for July 7-21. Twelve of the students will join Mission 91 B, which will include children from across the country July 28-Aug. 11.

Anyone interested in financially assisting the students should call Bay High School at 467-6611.

Kristie Pearce, Richard Soldnie

Gulfview kicks off Drug Awareness Month

Drug Awareness Month began with a two-hour program presented by Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Matt Karl, Staff Sgt. Fayard, Sgt. Jo Bourgeois and Hancock County trustee, Keenal Bell.

The program began with a 20-minute video of three teenagers whose deaths were drug related.

Fayard described the effects of illegal substances to the human body.

Karl explained the investigation and arrest process.

Bell talked to the students about his drug abuse and addiction to cocaine. Bell is presently serving a nine-year sentence for the possession of an illegal substance. He also discussed the negative aspects of being incarcerated.

After a 15-minute question and answer period, the students were able to view the drugs and drug paraphernalia which had been exhibited throughout the program.

Hancock High 'treasure hunt' site

Hancock School District will host the first annual Treasure Hunt Flea Market Saturday.

Waveland Elementary assists victims of earthquakes

Waveland Elementary School is accepting donations of canned food and non-perishable items for distribution to Central American earthquake victims.

Items may be taken to the principal's office weekdays between the hours of 9 a.m. and 2 p.m., to avoid morning and afternoon traffic congestion.

Waveland Elementary is located on St. Joseph Street. Call 467-6630 for more information.

PRC graduation set May 10

Pearl River, Mississippi's pioneer junior/community college, will officially end its 1990-91 school year with formal graduation exercises for the college's 81st class Friday, May 10 at 7 p.m. in the Marvin R. White Coliseum.

A record 583 students have applied for associate degrees and certificates of proficiency, according to Larry L. Stanford, spokesperson for the college.

The college's associate degree nursing pinning ceremony will be at 4 p.m. in the Moody Hall Auditorium.

May 18, 8 a.m.-6 p.m. on the practice/soccer field at Hancock High School.

Hancock High is located on Stennis Airport Drive, north of I-10 on Hwy. 603 (Exit 13).

The day will be filled with entertainment, lots of food and the thrill of bargain hunting.

Clean out your attics, gather your collectibles and rent a 10'x10' space for only $15. Deadline to reserve your space is May 11.

For more information call Cindy Havard at 467-5891 or 467-4466.
